ATTACHMENT A STATEMENT OF CPNI COMPLIANCE PROCEDURES

1. RCII provides the Reliance India Call service (www.relianceindiacall.com) in the United States. The Reliance India Call service is a retail long distance service that allows U.S. customers to make calls to India and other countries. RCII also provides a limited amount of private line service between the U.S. and India. RCII started providing service in the U.S. in 2004.
2. RCII does not make available and has never made available to any affiliated or unaffiliated entity information that meets the definition of CPNI set forth in 47 U.S.C. § 222(h)(1), except in the provision of telecommunications service from which such CPNI is derived, the billing for such telecommunications service, or when required to do so by law.
3. RCII only uses CPNI to render, and bill for, the telecommunications services it provide to its customers. RCII does not use, and has never used, its customers' CPNI for any marketing purpose, either internal or external, or other purpose set forth in the FCC's CPNI Rules, 47 C.F.R. § 64.2001 et seq.
4. Upon receipt of a customer request, RCII will disclose to such customer that customer's own CPNI under specific circumstances. Prior to releasing CPNI in response to a customer-initiated request made over the phone, RCII verifies the customer's identity through a series of questions requesting specific account information that is not readily available to individuals other than the customer. In the case of a written request, such request must be sent from the customer's registered e-mail address.

5. All RCII personnel having access to CPNI have been instructed in the companies' policies governing CPNI. It is a violation of the policies of RCII to disclose CPNI outside of RCII, except in the provision of the telecommunications service from which such CPNI is derived, the billing for such telecommunications service, or when required to do so by law. Any employee that is found to have violated this policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination.
6. Access to CPNI at RCII is restricted to a limited number of employees and controlled through the use of active security and other measures, including the use of special passwords that are assigned on a limited basis and technological measures which prohibit the electronic reproduction or distribution of CPNI. Encryption and other security practices are utilized when CPNI is transmitted electronically. RCII has also adopted the PCI Data Security Standard, developed by the PCI Security Standards Council, for protecting against unauthorized external access to customer account information.
7. Strict controls are in place involving responses to law enforcement agencies that serve RCII with valid legal demands, such as a court ordered subpoena, for CPNI. RCII will not supply CPNI to any law enforcement agency that does not produce a valid legal demand.
8. Since RCII does not use CPNI for any purpose (other than to render, and bill for, the telecommunications services it provides to its customers), and does not, under any circumstances, provide CPNI to other entities (except in the provision of telecommunications service from which such CPNI is derived, the billing for such telecommunications service, or when required to do so by law), it has not implemented the prior notification and customer approval procedures set forth in the FCC's Rules for the use of CPNI.
